Lindsay Receives Grant For New Police Station

State Rep. Lisa J. Billy and State Sen. Susan Paddock announced the town of Lindsay has received a Community Development Block Grant from The Oklahoma Department of Commerce.

The grant totaling $150,000 will pay for the town to build a new police station.

"This is such a blessing for the community of Lindsay. This money will provide the funds to keep our community safe and a family friendly place to live," said Paddock, D-Ada.

"Our small-town police stations are essential to the protection of our Oklahoma communities. Without the dedication of these hardworking and tireless individuals, we could be subject to untold loss. Their service is a blessing to their community and I am excited to see Lindsay police officers receive these grants as a 'thank you' for their continued service," said Billy, R-Purcell.

Senator Paddock and Representative Lisa Billy

Grants are awarded through a competitive process. The Oklahoma Legislature appropriates money to the Oklahoma Department of Commerce where they consider the specific needs of a community before finalizing their decision.

Funding is provided through The Oklahoma Department of Commerce by the U.S. Department of Housing and Development.

Les Gilliam To Perform At Murray Ranch Round-Up

Les Gilliam will be performing in Lindsay June 7, 2008 and is sponsored by the Lindsay Civic Arts Association. He will perform at the Murray Ranch Round-Up that will be at the Murray-Lindsay Mansion on the lawn. The Round-Up will consist of a BBQ dinner followed by homemade dessert. Cost of tickets are $10 for adults and $7 for children. All proceeds from the event will go to the renovation and up-keep of the Mansion and the Pikes Peak School. To buy tickets for the event contact Shawn Bridwell at 756-6502 or Marian Cunningham at 756-3539. Tickets can also be purchased at the gate.

Les Gilliam is the official "Oklahoma Balladeer", so designated by the Oklahoma State Legislature in 1998. He is a native of Gene Autry, OK and is a singer, songwriter, and recording artist. He was recently included in a new book "Distinguished Oklahomans".

In 2005, Les received the most prestigious award in Western Music by receiving the coveted "Wrangler Award" from the National Cowboy and Western Heritage Museum in Oklahoma City. In 2006, he was nominated for the Oklahoma Music Hall of Fame. Also in 2006 Les received the Governor's Arts Award from the Governor of the State of Oklahoma for his many years of entertaining Oklahomans and keeping western music alive. He is currently based in Ponca City, Oklahoma and entertains as a solo act with his guitar or with his band, The Silver Lake Band. This great band includes former Bob Wills Texas Playboy Smiley Weaver on Steel Guitar, Ponca City native and long time Kay Country favorite Don Long on drums, country fiddler and vocalist Jerald Ritter on fiddle, and the Pride of Winfield, Kenny Glasgow on bass. For the past few years, Les has done over 100

Les' concerts of cowboy, western swing, country and/or gospel music include fascinating stories about the songs and the artists who performed them. His country dances feature great western swing music and fun activities for the audience. He always includes original songs and humorous material, adding a touch of nostalgia and good ole fashion patriotism.

Les grew up in southern Oklahoma where Gene Autry owned a ranch next to their place and Gene would often come to visit them. Meeting Mr. Autry and enjoying his movies and radio show certainly created in Les a love for western music. He was a contributor to the recent book on cowboy music "Singing in the Saddle", written by his friend Ranger Doug of Riders in the Sky. He was also a contributor to the newly published official biography of Gene Autry, titled "Public Cowboy # 1".

Les has recorded twelve albums as well as two videos. He is a member of the Oklahoma Arts Council Touring Program as well as the Mid-America Arts Alliance based in Kansas City. Some of his recent noteworthy performances include the Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C.; Silver Dollar City in Branson, Missouri; The International Country Music Festival in Vienna, Austria; The Gene Autry Film and Music Festival in Gene Autry, OK; Rex Allen Days in Wilcox, AZ; Prairieville Farm Days in Michigan; The Bakersfield Opry in California; Western Music Festival in Tucson, AZ; The Cowboy Hall of Fame in Oklahoma City; The Oklahoma Music Hall of Fame in Muskogee, OK; and many others.

MEMORIAL DAY 2008

Members of the Lindsay American Legion Ball-Smith Post 23 conducted Memorial Day ceremonies at six cemeteries. The American Legion honor guard paid tribute to veterans buried in the Ninnekah Cemetery, the Alex Cemetery, the Bradley Cemetery, the Green Hill Cemetery in Lindsay, the Erin Springs Cemetery, and the Purdy Cemetery. Each ceremony included patriotic songs, remarks by a speaker, a 21 gun salute by the firing party, and the sounding of taps. These Legionnaires are to be commended for their service in this noble endeavor.

In order to illustrate the ceremonies conducted at the cemeteries, I will describe the ceremony at the Bradley Cemetery. Legionnaire Bill Baxter welcomed a very good crowd of Bradley residents. My nieces, Jeannie Rodgers Griswold, Linda Rodgers Cope, and Nancy Rodgers Goleman, sang beautiful renditions of "The National Anthem" and "God Bless America."

I spoke these words to the ones gathered to honor those veterans buried in the Bradley Cemetery.

This is a holy place. This is hallowed ground.

This place has been consecrated by those whose names are engraved on this monument. Their deeds and dedication to the service of their country are commemorated by this noble monument which stands here forever as a testimonial to their service.

The names engraved on this monument represent a roll call from all of our wars from the Civil War to the present war in Iraq.

In my mind, I see these names as a kind of muster of the troops, an assembly of warriors, some wearing the Yankee Blue and the Confederate Gray, others wearing the leggings and wool uniforms of World War I, others wearing the olive drab fatigues and helmets of World War II and Korea, some wearing the jungle green of the Vietnam War, and others wearing the new battle uniforms and body armor of modern warfare.

Although the warriors in this long file differ in appearance, they share one common bond, the brotherhood of warriors.

Nearly four hundred years ago, Shakespeare penned these immortal words that best express this brotherhood of warriors. In the play The Life of King Henry the Fifth, the King is addressing the English troops before they engage in battle with the French army in the Battle of Agincourt. The English army is outnumbered by 5 to 1. King Henry's speech inspired his army to defeat the French and change the course of history.

King Henry's words are as applicable today as they were nearly four centuries ago. King Henry's words were "We few, we happy few, we band of brothers. For he today that sheds his blood with me shall be my brother." This passage provided the title for the recent television series about World War II entitled "Band of Brothers."

The men and women whose names are inscribed on this Bradley monument are forever bound together in brotherhood by their service to their country. On Saturday, I stood before this monument and read every name on it. I recall from my childhood knowing many of the World War I veterans such as Charlie Dye, Buck Powell, and Snake Bradley. I recall the World War II veterans, who were boyhood heroes of mine. I have two brothers and a brother-in-law whose names are engraved on this monument. The Rodgers girls, who sang today, have a father and three uncles included on this monument. And these Legionnaires and the others of us who served our country are included in that brotherhood of warriors until our own names will be engraved on this monument and others like it.

Let us pray. "Our Heavenly Father, we ask your blessings on those who lie in his holy place. We ask your guidance for those of us who remain. And we ask your special blessings on this country and our leaders and the ones who fight on foreign fields for America this very day. Amen."

Let us join together in solemn reverence as the Ball-Smith American Legion honor guard pays tribute to these warriors.

Legionnaire John Howell then called the firing party to attention and gave the command to fire the volley. The ceremony concluded with John Geffre playing "Taps," the saddest of all sounds.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Enclosed is a check of $30 for renewal in The Lindsay News. I really enjoy getting and reading the paper. You all do a really terrific job on the paper.

I especially like Al Hunt's "Down the Wallville Road" and Jerry Nye's "Matchbook Memories". Each touch on the "older days" of Lindsay and Garvin County that I too, knew and grew up with.

The days of broom corn, then oil, Sat.'s spent at the Blue Moon Theatre, and so many more things. Gone now, but forever etched in our minds and our hearts. Yes, the "Good Old Days". In some ways they were good, and others they weren't. I think we were better for having known and lived through those times. And especially in a place so dear to me as Lindsay and Garvin County, Oklahoma! A very special place-then and now!

Most Sincerely yours,
Robert Dennison

By: Amber Minson

I hope everyone had a safe and fun Memorial Day weekend. I know we certainly did. Our weekend kicked off Friday with a flag retreat at the park here on base. It wasn't something that was done for families, but rather just for the soldiers. Zach participated in the retreat but because of the nature of it, Sam and I didn't go.

We also had a couple of barbecues this weekend. You just can't beat nice weather, good food, and good friends. Even Sam made some new friends. There were a few families at one of our cook outs that had children Sam's age and we put them all in the playpen together and they had a great time! It was a great opportunity for us to get to know some of our neighbors.

I hope that through all the trips to the lake and cook outs that we all managed to take a few moments and reflect on the true meaning and purpose of Memorial Day. There are so many things that we wouldn't have in this life if it weren't for the sacrifices and services of our military men and women; past and present.

Being part of the military family now, I see all the sacrifices made by our troops. I've realized that dying for their country, while being the ultimate and most appreciated sacrifice, is not the only way our troops make sacrifices. They also sacrifice time with their families and friends. I think the least we can do as American citizens is take the time one day a year to set aside our burgers and hot dogs and think about our troops, say a prayer for them and their families, and maybe call up a veteran or a current soldier and say thank you.

On a lighter note, I want to tell you about Sam's first trip to the swimming pool. I really wasn't too sure how he would react to it; but he loved it! He even got brave enough to stick his face in the water. He smiled and laughed the entire time we were in the water. Of course, once we got out of the water, he was exhausted and went to sleep before I had an opportunity to get him out of his wet clothes. I'm certain we will be making several trips to the pool before Sam and I make our trip back to Oklahoma.

Obviously we didn't get a chance to travel off base this weekend, but we're hoping to do so this coming weekend. Thank you for reading, and until next time, God bless.

As we move into June, the month of the beginning of Summer, June 20, I thought it was the 21, but my friend Bob, the big black bear of Maysville paper fame, said it's the 20th so its the 20th. But, I do know, it's be kind to "Samantha Schrader Zinn" wee of old route 4, Wallville Territory. Next week same time, same place.

And, now back to 1945 and Chester Dean, Sr., life as a POW of World War II. Led off to a prison camp, they were made to clean up rubble of bombed areas. Interrogated and pushed to the limit as punishment. They slept on tow sacks full of straw for a mattress with one blanket. Fed just enough to keep them alive. As days turned to weeks, their hopes of seeing the sunny banks of home faded with each passing day. They saw one of their fellow prisoners die which only helped to dishearten them. May 7, 1945, on a force march from one prison camp to another. Russian soldiers overtook the group and freed the American soldiers. A group of exhilarated men were soon flown from Germany to France where they were reunited with American forces. Nearing the war's end Cpl. Chester Dean was sent to Hot Springs, AR, then to Cheyenne WY where he was discharged October 7, 1945. Glad to be among the living with an adventure to share. Chester Dean Sr. couldn't wait to once again go down the Wallville Road.

Turn off the highway and let's go down the Wallville Road. He was a 27 year old young man thrust into a war to end all wars. He had lived in Wallville and attended Hughes School. But, now on foreign soil he faced the greatest test of his life, testing his mettle. Assigned to the 38th Armor Infantry Division. With the American forces they plunged into the Battle of the Bulge, one of the fiercest battles of World War II in the heart of Germany. The fighting was so intense he and several men got cut off from supplies and ammunition. Before they could regroup they were surprised by German soldiers. To him, the barrel of the German rifle staring him in the face looked like a cannon. They were led off to a prisoner of war camp. He couldn't have known that same night Bill Pharaoh of Maysville of his own stomping grounds was taken prisoner that night, December 21, 1944. With the tense situation in one of the darkest periods of the world, Chester Dean Sr., son of Homer and Nettie Dean, didn't know if he'd ever see friends and loved ones again or go down the Wallville Road.

Gene Autry Film And Music Festival To Be Held

Western and country entertainers, Western film stars, authors and cowboy poets highlight this year's Gene Autry Oklahoma Film & Music Festival, held September 24-28 at the Gene Autry Oklahoma Museum

Advance tickets are now on sale for this event that put the tiny town of Gene Autry, Oklahoma, on the map. It's located about 12 miles northeast of Ardmore, just east of Interstate 35.

The town took its name from film star Gene Autry, who owned a ranch there in the 1930s and '40s. Country superstar Gene Watson, whose hits include "Paper Rosie" and "Farewell Party," heads a strong list of headline performers that includes Les Gilliam, the Oklahoma Balladeer; Johnny Western, who played for both Gene Autry and Johnny Cash; and Eli Barsi, known as "Canada's Cowgirl." Others to be featured include Judy Coder & Pride of the Prairie, a Kansas-based Western ensemble; singer/songwriter Terry Smith ("Farside Banks of Jordan"); the hilarious O'Roark Brothers; and Western swing/rockabilly singer Liz Talley from Houston.

Film star guests at the Film & Music Festival include Robert Fuller (Laramie), Barry Corbin (Lonesome Dove), Lisa Montell (Gunsmoke, Maverick), Roberta Shore (The Virginian) and Don Reynolds, Jr. (Little Beaver). (Mr. Corbin will be attending if he is not involved in a film project at that time.)

Authors and celebrities confirmed include Bobby Copeland, author of 14 books about various aspects of the B-Western films; Joyce Spizer Foy & Judy Keel, author of Only Make Believe, a biography of actor Howard Keel; and Cheryl Rogers Barnett, daughter of Roy Rogers & Dale Evans. Celebrity MCs include Tommy Wiggins, John Buttram and Jo Hargrave.

The event includes showings of various B Western films and a new film called Trail End, produced by Shannon Keenan and starring Barry Corbin.

The Gene Watson Show will be held Friday evening, September 26, and includes The O'Roark Brothers, Eli Barsi and Liz Talley. The Les Gilliam Show will be Saturday evening, September 27, and will include performances by Johnny Western, Judy Coder & Pride of the Prairie and Terry Smith. Admission to the event is extremely affordable and discounts are given to Seniors, children 12 and under, and to afternoon tour groups. Contact the Museum at 580-294-3047 or townofgeneautry.com for a ticket price list. The setting for the Film & Music Festival is the Gene Autry Oklahoma Museum, a three-building complex located just west of Gene Autry. Dedicated to the "legacy of the singing cowboys of the 'B' Westerns of the 1930s, '40s and '50s," the museum contains dozens of displays that evoke the lives, films and careers of the various singing cowboys. Included are Roy Rogers and Dale Evans, Ken Maynard, Eddie Dean, Tex Ritter, and, of course, Gene Autry (among many others). □ The Gene Autry Oklahoma Film & Music Festival is an annual presentation of the Gene Autry Oklahoma Historical Society and Museum and is funded in part by the Oklahoma Arts Council and the Mid-America Arts Alliance. For more information about the Film & Music Festival or the Gene Autry Oklahoma Museum in general, log on to www.geneautryokmuseum.com. # High Plains Range Camp To Be Held

High school students looking for a week-long camp to attend this summer are encouraged to consider the High Plains Range Camp, where being outside is "in." Held June 16-20, 2008 at Camp Billy Joe in Kenton, Oklahoma, Range Camp gives students the opportunity to learn about natural resources and the environment in a ranch setting.

The camp is set in beautiful country, featuring terrain and vegetation from the Rocky Mountains and the High Plains. The vegetation is very diverse and provides excellent education opportunities amongst the rocks, canyons, creeks and mesas of the area.

A major focus of the camp is to teach youth the importance of range management through the use of evaluation skills and land management planning. The majority of the activities during camp are outdoor related, beginning with plant identification, soils, ecological site descriptions and GIS mapping. Campers will be taught how to evaluate habitat for livestock and wildlife, as well as how to develop a land management plan. Campers will hike, play games and have fun while learning team building and leadership skills. Field trips are planned to historical sites and working ranches. Evenings are filled with cultural events such as chuck wagon dinners and campfire cookouts.

High Plains Range Camp is open to high school sophomores, juniors and seniors from Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Kansas and Colorado. Ten students will be accepted from each state. Registration is $150, which includes meals, lodging and transportation during the camp. Camp check-in begins at 1 p.m. on Monday, June 16, and ends with an awards presentation at noon on Friday, June 20.

Instruction is provided by natural resource specialists from the USDA-Natural Resources Conservation Service, Universities, Extension, conservation districts, educators, ranchers and others from the five-state area.

Applications are available by contacting Melissa Teague at USDA-NRCS, 320 North Main, Hollis, Oklahoma 73350. Melissa can be reached by phone at 580-688-3456 (day) or 940-937-0075 (evening) or by e-mail at HYPERLINK "mailto:melissa.teague@ok.usda.gov" melissa.teague@ok.usda.gov. # Register To Vote Correctly

Oklahomans who want to elect the nominee of a political party should make sure they are registered correctly no later than Saturday, May 31, according to Cathy Brinley, Secretary of the Garvin County Election Board.

May 31 is the last day for registered voters to change their political affiliation, Brinley said.

Each political party can nominate one candidate per office for the November General Election. If two or more candidates from the same party file for one office, the party nominee is selected at either the Primary or Runoff Primary Election.

Only voters registered in a political party can vote to select that party's nominees. Voters not registered in a party (Independents) cannot vote for party candidates in primary elections. Oklahoma has two (2) recognized political parties in 2008: Republican and Democrat.

All registered voters, regardless of political affiliation, can vote for any candidate at the November General Election and for state or local questions at any election.

Applications to register to vote or to change political affiliation are available at the Garvin County Election Board office, Garvin County Court House, room eight (8); post offices; public libraries; state offices providing public assistance; and at most political party and candidate campaign offices.
