Apply Now For Absentee Ballots In Garvin County

Voters in Garvin County who want to have absentee ballots mailed to them for the July 29 Primary election should apply now, County Election Board Secretary Brinley, said today. Although the County Election Board can accept applications for absentee ballots until 5 p.m. on Wednesday, July 23, Brinley urged voters who want to vote by absentee ballot to apply early.

Absentee ballot application forms are available at the County Election Board office located at the Garvin County Courthouse, First Floor, Room 8. The absentee ballot application forms also can be downloaded and printed from the Internet at www.elections.state.ok.us.

"At least two mail transactions must be made," Brinley said. "The County Election Board must mail the ballots to the voter and the voter must return the voted ballots by mail." Ballots must be in the hands of the County Election Board by 7 p.m. on Election Day in order to be counted.

Brinley said that any registered voter may vote by absentee ballot in any election in which he or she is eligible to vote. It is not necessary to give a reason--or excuse--for voting absentee. "While anyone can vote absentee without giving a reason, the law still provides several excuses, and it is to the advantage of some voters to use one of them," Brinley said. By stating one of the following reasons on their applications, these voters can activate some special conditions that make it easier for them to use absentee ballots. The reasons are:

-- Voters who are physically incapacitated and voters who care for physically incapacitated persons who cannot be left unattended may vote absentee. They may apply only by mail, by fax, or by telegraph.

-- Voters who are confined to nursing homes in the county may vote absentee.

An Absentee Voting Board actually goes to the nursing home a few days before the election, sets up a small polling place and allows these persons to vote under circumstances similar to those at a regular precinct polling place. They may apply only by mail or by fax

-- Military personnel and residents of the county living overseas and the spouses and dependents of each group are eligible to vote absentee without being registered. These voters may apply only by mail or by fax. Military personnel should contact the Voting Service Officers in their units for application forms and additional information. Residents of Oklahoma living overseas can obtain the same materials from any United States military installation and from United States Embassies and Consulates. Military personnel and overseas citizens also can download and print the appropriate application form from the Internet at www.fvap.gov.

TIMES THEY ARE A'CHANGIN'

Last week, my friend, L.B. Hoyle, sent me an article entitled "That's Only 53 Years Ago." The article was a collection of comments made in the year 1955. Several of the items started me to thinking. I witnessed these things, and I might very well have made similar comments. The list of comments may set you to thinking too.

1. "When I first started driving, who would have thought gas would someday cost 29 cents a gallon. Guess we'd be better off leaving the car in the garage." In August, 1967, as I was preparing to drive from Greeley, Colorado, to Weatherford to join the faculty of Southwestern, I stopped for gas. I was shocked to see that the price of gasoline had gone up to 35 cents per gallon. My tank held nearly $6.00 worth of gas. Now $6.00 would not buy two gallons. When I filled my car today, I paid $3.89 per gallon. This week, I paid more than $7.00 to fill my two-gallon lawn mower gas can. Now I cannot imagine ever paying 35 cents a gallon for gas.

2. "Have you seen the new cars coming out next year? It won't be long before $2,000 will only buy a used one." Only a few kinds of new cars now cost less than $20,000. Many pickups cost more than $40,000. I bought my first car in 1955. It was a very good 1950 Chevrolet, bought new by Virgil Hamilton, a Bradley farmer. I wrote a check for $650 to pay for that car. I drove it until I graduated from college in 1957. I still have the canceled check I wrote to pay for my first car.

3. "Did you hear the post office is thinking about charging a dime just to mail a letter?" People of my age understand this complaint. I remember three cent stamps for letters and penny post cards. This week, I bought a sheet of forty-two cent "forever" stamps, which promise they will send a letter no matter how much the price of stamps increases. In my boyhood, you could send fourteen letters for the price of one letter today.

4. "If they think I'll pay 50 cents for a haircut, forget it." When I was a child, my father cut my hair. I paid 35 cents for the first barber shop haircut that I can remember. In the late 1930s at Enoch Pamplin's barber shop in Bradley, a haircut cost 10 cents. An older Bradley man once told me about a haircut price war in Bradley where the two barbers charged 5 cents for a haircut. Now I gladly pay my barber $10.00 for a haircut, and, as a bonus, I get free hunting and fishing stories for the duration of the haircut.

5. "If cigarettes keep going up in price, I'm going to quit. A quarter a pack is ridiculous." Once upon a time long ago, I smoked. I recall when Winston cigarettes went up from 25 cents to 35 cents a pack. I thought I was ruined. For a while, I even dipped Copenhagen, for which I paid 25 cents a box. This week I overheard an older man about my age discussing the purchase of a six-box package of Wintergreen snuff. He explained that for $6.00 you got a bonus box in the six-roll package. I am glad I quit all tobacco in 1956.

6. "It's too bad things are so tough nowadays. I see where a few married women are having to work to make ends meet." I know only a few women who do not work outside the home unless they work on the family farm or in the family business. The entire family structure has changed in the past fifty years. I even know some "house husbands" who stay at home and keep the house and care for the kids while their wives work.

When I read the list that L.B. sent me, I wondered what such a list would include fifty years from now. I am sure the list would include surprises just as this one did. Our grandchildren will be as astonished as we are at the changes that come to their lives.

McClain County Extension Seeks To Receive Matching Funds From OSRHE

McClain County OSU Cooperative Extension has been challenged with the monumental task of raising $250,000 before June 30, 2008.

Oklahoma State University alumnus T. Boone Pickens has challenged donors to join him in taking part in receiving matching funds from the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education (OSRHE). With a donation of $250,000, Pickens will match those funds and then the OSRHE will qualify the money for the dollar-for-dollar match. Together the initial donation will result in a $1 million endowed faculty chair. This endowed chair can be designated to benefit the McClain County Extension Service.

With the announcement the state is changing the endowed chair matching program on July 1, residents can take full advantage of the current dollar-for-dollar state match to add significant support to OSU and the Cooperative Extension Service with their donations through the end of the month.

A $1 million endowment will generate about $45,000 of operating funds each year. Forty-five thousand dollars of operating funds can be used for such things as purchase of educational materials, costs of putting on a conference or workshop, scholarships, hiring support personnel part-time or perhaps even full-time personnel.

The McClain County 4-H program would see immediate benefits from this endowment. Currently the 4-H Extension Educator and County Program Assistant positions are funded by a county sales tax that is renewed every five years by county voters. With this endowment we can guarantee that McClain County will always have a 4-H Program Educator.

During 2007 McClain

County Extension programming reached 2,194 youth within the county through 4-H and school enrichment programs. Nine senior 4-H'ers reported being involved in 367 different projects and spending 1,731 hours performing community service activities. During those community service activities more than 5,474 individuals were helped in some way.

Contributions can come from individuals or organizations and must be received before June 30th, 2008. Anyone interested in supporting this endowment can contact Mickey Simpson, Interim County Extensions Director, at 405-527-2174.

Winsome Sunday School Class Meets

It was a light attendance for the Winsome Sunday School Class of First Baptist, Lindsay, the second Tuesday of June. Those attending were: Kathy Ellithorpe, Shirley England, Carolyn Hutto, Jerry Jones, and Leota McCoy.

Carolyn Hutto gave the blessing, and then the group talked about absent members while waiting for their food. Current events and the "good old times" were discussed. What they could do about things was asked, but no one had the answer.

Shirley England read an item she'd received on the internet.

By the time the Lord made woman,

He was into his sixth day of working overtime.

An angel appeared and said, "Why are you spending so much time on this one?"

The Lord answered, "Have you seen my spec sheet on her?"

She has to be completely washable, but not plastic,

Have over 200 movable parts, all replaceable,

And able to run on diet coke and leftover,

Have a lap that can hold four children at one time,

Have a kiss that can cure anything from a scraped knee to a broken heart,

And she will do everything "With only two hands."

The angel asked, "Only two hands!? No Way!"

The angel continued, "That's too much work for one day. Wait until tomorrow to finish."

The Lord protested, "I'm so close to finishing; she's so close to my heart, she already heals herself when she is sick, AND can work 18 hour days."

The angel touched her, "She's so soft."

"But tough to endure and accomplish," nodded the Lord.

"Will she be able to think?" asked the angel.

The Lord replied, "Not only will she be able to think, She will be able to reason and negotiate."

Then the angel reached out and touched the woman's cheek.

"Oops, it looks like you have a leak. I told you that you were trying to put too much into this one."

The Lord corrected, "That's not a leak, it's a tear."

"What's the tear for? the angel asked.

"It's here way of showing joy, sorrow, pain, disappointment, love, loneliness, grief and pride."

The angel was impressed. "You're a genius, Lord. You thought of everything! Woman is truly amazing."

Women have strengths that amaze men. They bear hardships, and they carry burdens, but they hold happiness, love, and joy. They smile when they want to scream, and sing when they want to cry. They cry when they are happy and laugh when they are nervous. Women come in all shapes, sizes, and colors. They give moral support to their family and friends. They'll drive, fly, walk, run, or e-mail you. The heart of a woman is what makes the world keep turning. However, if there is one flaw in women, it is that they forget their worth.

The meeting was dismissed with three of the members going to sing with the "Singing Seniors". They were headed to Norman. 'Til next time.

Gene Autry Summer Jamboree To Be Held

In beautiful uptown Gene Autry, OK, that tiny town just northeast of Ardmore, there's a unique museum that's dedicated to preserving the legacy of the singing cowboys of the 1930s, '40s, and '50s. Area residents are invited to visit the Gene Autry Oklahoma Museum during its Summer Jamboree fundraiser, held Saturday, June 21 from 12 p.m. to 6:15 p.m.

It's an afternoon of music and fun that features Oklahoma Balladeer Les Gilliam from Ponca City as headline performer and a special "Goodies" Auction with Ardmore's comic auctioneer Joe Tibbs from Ardmore.

The fun and festivity of the Summer Jamboree are designed to raise fund for the Museum's programs and operation. There's no admission charge, but donations will be encouraged.

The Summer Jamboree is hosted by yodeling champion Janet McBride from Forney, TX, and features country duo Tex and Mary from Streetmand, TX; Pat Boilesen from Albion, NE; Rob Carter from Springer, OK; Dave Barron and Chris Miller from Ardmore, OK;

Buck Helton from Dallas, TX; Mike Shirley from Plano, TX; and CJ Alldredge from Lone Grove, OK.

Music and cowboy poetry performances begin at noon, the goodies auction will begin at approximately 3:30 p.m., and Les Gilliam's performance will begin at about 5:30 p.m.

"This is a great opportunity for folks to come out and see what a treasure we have in the Gene Autry Oklahoma Museum," said Mary Schutz, museum volunteer who works on museum programs and publicity. "Certainly not stuffy, this museum is an ode to a bygone era in which movie cowboys provided heroes for youngsters and Western films were a popular form of entertainment. We invite area residents to join us and see what this American treasure is all about. We guarantee that you'll have a great time."

To get to the Gene Autry Oklahoma Museum, take exit 40 off Interstate 35, go eight miles east on Hwy 53, two miles south on Happy Trails and two miles east on Tumbleweed Road. For more information call the Museum at 580-294-3047.

OU Law Center Offering Free Orientation Seminar

The University of Oklahoma Law Center will offer a free orientation seminar for people interested in a career as a paralegal. The seminar, sponsored by the Department of Legal Assistant Education, will be held Saturday, August 23, 2008, from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. at the OU Law Center, 300 Timberdell Road in Norman. Speakers will include instructors and graduates of the OU legal assistant program and representatives of professional paralegal organizations.

The OU Department of Legal Assistant Education is now enrolling students for classes that begin in August, 2008. The courses are designed to train individuals as paralegals for careers in private, corporate, and government law-related activities.

"Legal assistants, or paralegals, work with attorneys to provide legal services to clients," said David A. Poarch, director of the department and assistant dean of the OU College of Law. "Economic surveys indicate that the demand for paralegals will continue to increase. Many of our students already work in the legal field and want more training. Others are seeking to begin new careers in law."

Classes are offered on Saturdays at the OU Law Center in order to allow students to continue working while studying for their certificate. The classes are taught by lawyers, law professors, and legal assistants who specialize in various areas of law. Completion of the OU legal assistant education program, which has been approved by the American Bar Association since 1986, will provide the skills necessary to perform a variety of law-related tasks, including legal research, and drafting legal documents.

Additional information on enrollment is available from the Department of Legal Assistant Education, 300 Timberdell Road, Room 314, Norman, OK 73019-5081; telephone 405-325-1726; e-mail lae@hamilton.law.ou.edu.

Riley Adams and Bobcat catch

Turn off the highway and let's go down the Wallville Road. Now, the last few weeks we've tried to tell you the famous tales of dogs of our hometown. But, these were dog dogs you understand. Just your average good ol' watchdogs. But, we did have some real trophy dogs. I mean, sure enough, Luther "Babe" Kay and Riley Adams were dog lovers I mean. Luther had a set of wolfhounds, might have been Tennessee walkers, but we called them wolf hounds. Now, he did hunting in the Table Top Mountains and along Rush Creek and Panther Creek. Those dogs must have been good because Babe always came home alive. But, Luther had top notch dogs, he took them to shows across the state and came home with trophies, I'm telling you. Well, neighbor, Riley Adams was right up there, he was a dog over, and his were trophy winning dogs too. But, not only that, but Riley was so good they made him the county trapper. Wolves and Coyotes hung from the fence post around the community, after having a run in with Riley and his dogs and losing. Now the real Wolfhunter was Ed Denson who lived along Rush Creek. He liked to hunt wolves at night with his nine sons and his wolf hounds. He would say when the hounds were on a wolf's trail each dog had a different tone in their bawl. He said he could tell them by name which struck the trail first, second, third, and so on, while sitting by a cozy fire a mile or so away. Now, this is a fact with my hand up. I heard it all down the Wallville Road.

Greetings from legend #811, well into our 17th year of sharing th good times of Wallville-Hughes yesteryears.

waves and thunderstorms have been the norm for June. 100 degrees feels like 110. We have been spoiled by air-conditioning.

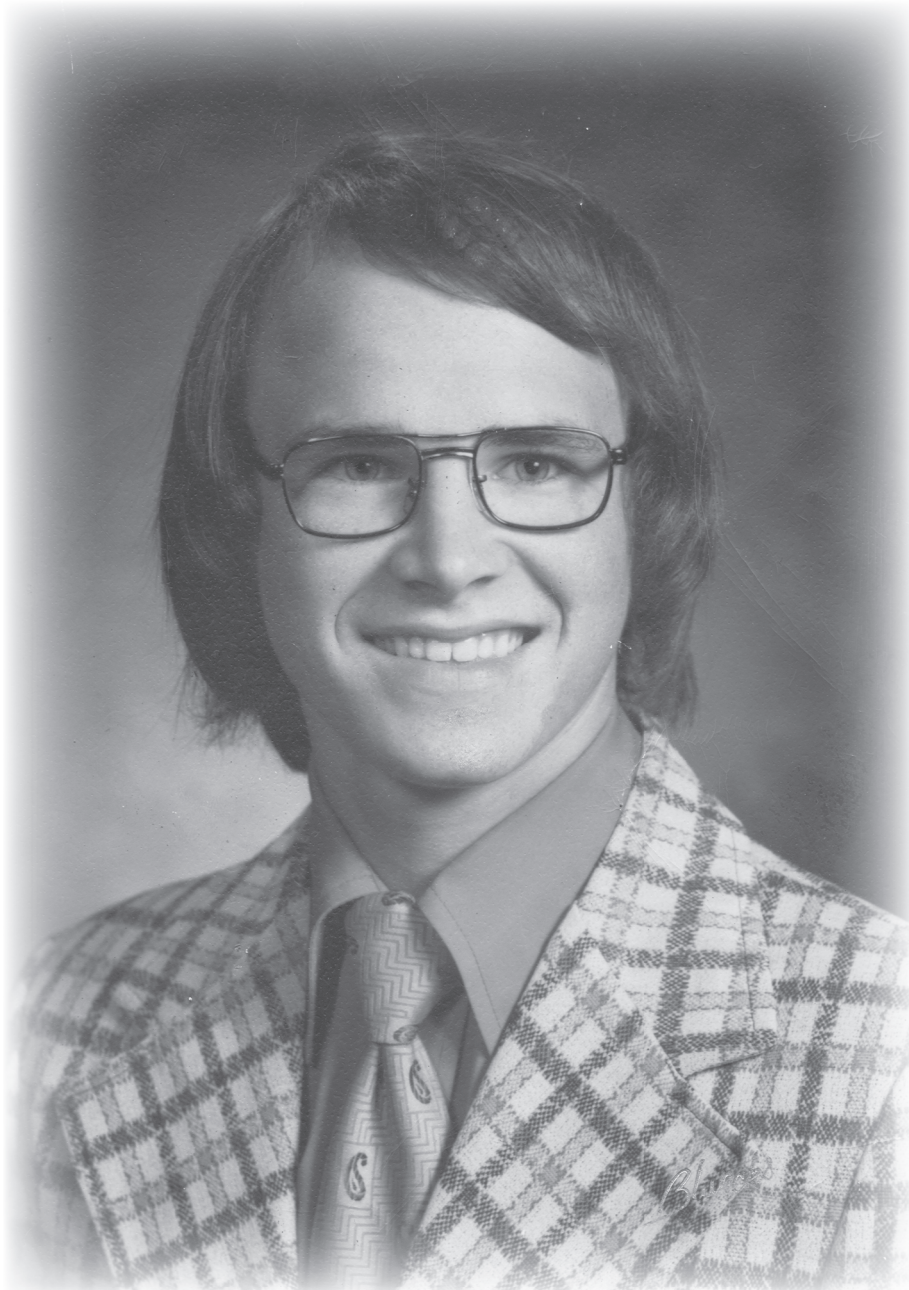

The Wallville Veteran's committee salutes Jeff Cantrell, U.S. Navy. Served overseas, now in Florida set to return overseas. Return safely Jeff.

The Owl man celebrated Father's Day with a single dip Rocky Road ice cream on a cone, know what I mean?

Mopping sweat as the grass keeps ahead of me. Here we go into summer 2008 somebody fix me a root beer float. This is be kind to "Buddy Adams" week. One of the good guys. All you fathers, hope you had a great Father's Day June 15.

Dog tales of the old West #3. One night Calvin Diggs went along with the Densons on a wolf hunt. They were all sitting around a campfire while the hounds were searching the pasture and canyons nearby, trying to get the scent of a wolf's trail. Now and then a hound would let out a lonesome bawl. Soon one sounded off and all the others joined in. Mr. Denson said "Ol" Blue has found a trail, listen to the otehrs as they find it, that sounds like music to my ears! Calvin spoke up and said, I can't hear the music with them crazy hounds a-barking! That's the way it really happened down the Wallville Road.

High Plains Range Camp To Be Held

Highschool students looking for a week-long camp to attend this summer are encouraged to consider the High Plains Range Camp, where being outside is "in." Held June 16-20, 2008 at Camp Billy Joe in Kenton, Oklahoma, Range Camp gives students the opportunity to learn about natural resources and the environment in a ranch setting.

The camp is set in beautiful country, featuring terrain and vegetation from the Rocky Mountains and the High Plains. The vegetation is very diverse and provides excellent education opportunities amongst the rocks, canyons, creeks and mesas of the area.

A major focus of the camp is to teach youth the importance of range management through the use of evaluation skills and land management planning. The majority of the activities during camp are outdoor related, beginning with plant identification, soils, ecological site descriptions and GIS mapping. Campers will be taught how to evaluate habitat for livestock and wildlife, as well as how to develop a land management plan. Campers will hike, play games and have fun while learning team building and leadership skills. Field trips are planned to historical sites and working ranches. Evenings are filled with cultural events such as chuck wagon dinners and campfire cookouts.

High Plains Range Camp is open to high school sophomores, juniors and seniors from Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Kansas and Colorado. Ten students will be accepted from each state. Registration is $150, which includes meals, lodging and transportation during the camp. Camp check-in begins at 1 p.m. on Monday, June 16, and ends with an awards presentation at noon on Friday, June 20.

Instruction is provided by natural resource specialists from the USDA-Natural Resources Conservation Service, Universities, Extension, conservation districts, educators, ranchers and others from the five-state area.

Applications are available by contacting Melissa Teague at USDA-NRCS, 320 North Main, Hollis, Oklahoma 73350. Melissa can be reached by phone at 580-688-3456 (day) or 940-937-0075 (evening) or by e-mail at HYPERLINK "mailto:melissa.teague@ok.usda.gov" melissa.teague@ok.usda.gov. Applications must be postmarked by June 2, 2008.

Additional information and applications are also available through local conservation districts, NRCS and Extension offices.
