American Cancer Society Honors Lesa Foster With Non-Advocacy Staff Of The Year Award

Rush Springs resident Lesa Foster was recently honored with the first ever Non-Advocacy Staff of the Year Award from the National American Cancer Society Cancer Action Network (ACS CAN). The award, given to someone who is not a direct staff of the ACS CAN, recognizes Foster for continually promoting the mission of Advocacy and the importance of ACS CAN at every level. Foster received recognition at the ACS CAN Lobby Day 2009 festivities in Washington DC.

Lesla is married to Barry Foster, 1979 Lindsay High School graduate, and the daughter-in-law of Betty Foster of Lindsay and the late S.J. Foster. Lesa and Barry have four children, Stormi, Summer, Skye, and Kyle.

The Non-Advocacy Staff of the Year award recognizes exceptional recruitment and retention abilities as well as demonstrating a successful team approach to advancing efforts. Foster was instrumental in support of Advocacy, and she has allowed for significant growth with Oklahoma's volunteers and staff. She has helped build a strong relationship between the Field and Government Relations Departments and saw early on how the ACS and ACS CAN work together and compliment each other; she views the regional ACS CAN goals as goals that she too is responsible for attaining.

Foster also highlights ACS CAN at the Oklahoma Relay University and has helped to develop incentive for those who sign-up as members every year. She and her staff have developed the Five Star Relay Challenge - which included advocacy as one of the five stars - that has allowed Oklahoma to meet their ACS CAN through Relay goals.

"Lesla Foster is continually committed to advocacy in the state of Oklahoma. She always encourages her staff to participate in local and state level coalitions in support of ACS CAN's public policy agenda as well as fundraising. Her support has truly made a difference in Oklahoma,"

Conservation Program Announced By Garvin Conservation District

The Garvin Conservation District has announced that funds are available for cost-share assistance on selected conservation practices benefiting soil and water conservation.

The State of Oklahoma has provided limited funds to our conservation district to help landowners implement measures that protect soil and water resources.

The great advantage of the Conservation Cost-Share Program for Oklahoma is that it is a locally-led program, said Mike Thralls, executive director of the Conservation Commission.

Each local conservation district, with input from local residents and agricultural producers, selects which of the available conservation practices to provide assistance on, based on their local natural resource issues.

Conservation practices available for cost-share assistance through the Garvin Conservation District includes the following: Hay & pasture Planting, Pond construction and Range Planting.

The percentage of cost-share varies according to the conservation practice to be constructed. The district will be accepting applications from October 13 through December 15, 2009. For more information contact the Garvin Conservation District, (405)238-7233. The district office is located at 105 N Indian Meridian, Pauls Valley and office hours are 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday-Friday.

Lindsay Takes Second Place In District 2A-3 With Win Over Frederick

John Pinnick runs the ball against the Frederick defense with some good blocking from the Leopard line. The Leopards took over sole possession of second place of District 2A-3 with the win. Lindsay faces Crooked Oak Friday at home. Go out to Burford Field and cheer on the Leopards. (Photo by Sheryl Kochert).

A very exciting game Thursday against Frederick, would determine which team would be in sole possession of second place in district 2A-3. The feeling throughout the game was that the winner would be determined in the last few minutes of the game and that was the case.

The first quarter was a back and forth battle with the defenses stopping the opposing offenses. Lindsay scored first on a 19 yard run by Stephon Bradley with 17 seconds remaining in the first quarter. Josiah Harrison would come in a kick his first extra point of the season.

Frederick would answer with a 2 yard touchdown run with 6:33 remaining in the second quarter. The made extra point tied up the ballgame at 7 apiece. The Bombers would answer again after stopping the Leopards with a 29 yard touchdown pass. After the made extra point, Frederick led 14-7.

With 51 seconds remaining in the first half, Stephon Bradley would score his second touchdown of the game on a 7 yard run. The snap for the extra point was high and the Leopards however converted the two points on a pass from Dakota Elledge to Jake Bowen. The Leopards led 15-14 with 51 seconds left and felt pretty good going into halftime. The Bombers had other plans on their mind as they marched 65 yards on two plays including a 29 yard touchdown pass to go ahead of Lindsay. After a failed extra point attempt, Frederick would lead Lindsay 20-15 going into halftime.

Lindsay would score first in the second half on a 25 yard pass from Scott Hacker to Stephon Bradley. After the extra point attempt failed Lindsay led Frederick 21-20. The Leopards would answer again on a 1 yard run by Zack Bustillos. Lindsay was ahead by just 7 points, 27-20.

Frederick would tie the game with 9:12 remaining in the ballgame on a 34 yard pass. After the made extra point, the game was all tied up.

After a Frederick fumble Lindsay would go ahead with just 70 seconds left in the game on Scott Hacker's 8 yard run. Josiah Harrison would convert the extra point and the Leopards would lead Frederick by 1 touchdown. On the ensuing kick off, the Leopards would recover a Bomber fumble and run out the clock to seal the victory.

The Leopards would have 17 first downs compared to

TIMES CHANGES EVERYTHING PART I

Days seemed longer then when we lived on the Victoria farm during World War II. The days seemed to last forever. From the time we got up before daylight in the morning until we went to bed not long after dark, the days seemed to creep along. There seemed to be time to do everything we needed to do without the sense of urgency that plagues our days now. In the minds of us who lived in those long ago days, we are startled by the changes that we have witnessed. As the title of a Bob Willis song suggests, time changes everything.

Even in retirement, my days are never long enough. I answer my alarm each morning at 6 a.m. We woke up on the farm at 6 a.m. or earlier, not because of an alarm clock, but in response to my father's innate sense of what time to awake. We never owned an alarm clock, but my father never failed to awaken on time. Then he called us once, and we were expected to hit the cold winter floor at once.

We began the day quickly and simply. It took only seconds to put on a plain blue or khaki shirt and a pair of overalls. We did not have to choose which pair of shoes to wear. We had only one pair. A quick trip to the wash bench in the kitchen to rinse our hands in the wash pan, splash water on our faces, and dry our hands and faces on the family towel, and we were ready for breakfast. There was no waiting in line for our turn to the bathroom. We didn't have one.

My mother would have awakened before anyone else. She would have breakfast on the table when we came into the kitchen. Everyone ate at once. There was no eating in shifts as we do today. And there were no special orders. On the table, there would be a large platter of fried eggs, another large platter of ham, bacon, or, on a special morning, fried squirrel, a pan of hot biscuits made from scratch, homemade butter, homemade jelly, and cups of steaming hot coffee for everyone, even a ten-year-old boy. Generally we would be in and out of the kitchen within thirty minutes, leaving a long morning ahead before we came back for dinner at noon.

Now, early mornings seem to fly by. From the time I get up at 6 a.m. until I leave the house for coffee at The Mark Restaurant, more than an hour passes. First, I let my small golden dog out, check the computer for e-mail, scan The New York Times on the web, and check the Boydston Funeral Home obituaries. Then I start a pot of coffee before I turn on the television to watch the end of the KWTU local news before switching to KFOR to watch the first segment of "The Today Show" while I have two cups of coffee.

By then, my wife has toast and oatmeal ready. After I have eaten, it is time to shave and dress. By now, an hour and a half has passed, and I am just leaving the house for coffee at The Mark. After three or four cups of The Mark coffee and interesting talk with my friends there, I buy a paper to read at home or at my office. The clock reads 9 a.m. as I begin whatever I plan to do for the rest of the morning. On the farm, we would have been working for over two hours. And there would still be three hours before we could eat dinner.

The days seemed longer on the farm in those years because our lives were less cluttered. We lived simply because there was no other way. In the morning, we would have time to milk the cows, slop the hogs, feed the mules and horses, separate the milk, and still do the main work of the morning such as plant the crops, chop cotton, cut broomcorn, pull cotton, or gather corn, whatever the season called for. We had time to focus on the task at hand. Now our fragmented lives have us running in all directions, accomplishing less work and feeling more frustration.

A scene from Cervantes' long novel Don Quixote seems to describe our modern hectic lives. Don Quixote, the idealistic old knight, rides wildly around the country, righting wrongs both real and imagined. One line from the novel seems to describe our modern lives: "He leaped upon his horse and rode off madly in all directions."

Winsome Sunday School Class Of First Baptist Meets

Can't say it was a pretty fall day that second Tuesday of October when the ladies of Winsome Sunday School Class, First Baptist, Lindsay, met for their monthly breakfast meeting. Eleven hardy souls faced the elements and enjoyed a good meal and fellowship.

Those attending were: Carol DeVries, Lavora Dodd, Kathy Ellithorp, Shirley England, Darlene Henry, Ina Hoyle, Carolyn Hutto, Jerry Jones, Barbara Lackey, Kathy Marcum, and La Rue Robertson.

The ladies visited while waiting for their food, and Carolyn Hutto gave the blessing. Members were mentioned and reported on. An update was given on one of the member's husbands; glad to say it was good news. Trips that some of the ladies had been on together were recalled with fond memories.

Jerry Jones brought the following article for the "Oklahoma State Trooper". It is from the "Chaplain's Message".

One rainy afternoon a mother was driving along a busy main street in her city. Because of the rain, she was taking those extra precautions that are necessary when the roads are wet and slick.

Suddenly, her daughter from the back seat spoke up saying, "Mom, I am thinking of something." The announcement usually meant the daughter had been pondering some fact in her mind for awhile. And, was now ready to expound all that her eight-year old mind had discovered. The mother was eager to hear this new profound thought. "What are you thinking?" asked the mother. "The rain! she began, is like sin, and the windshield wipers are like God wiping our sins away."

After the chill bumps raced up and down the arms of the mother because of such a dramatic statement the mother responded. "That is really a good thought." Then the mother's curiosity broke in. She began to wonder just how far would her daughter take this newfound revelation. Accordingly, the mother asked, "Do you notice how the rain keeps on coming? What does that tell you?"

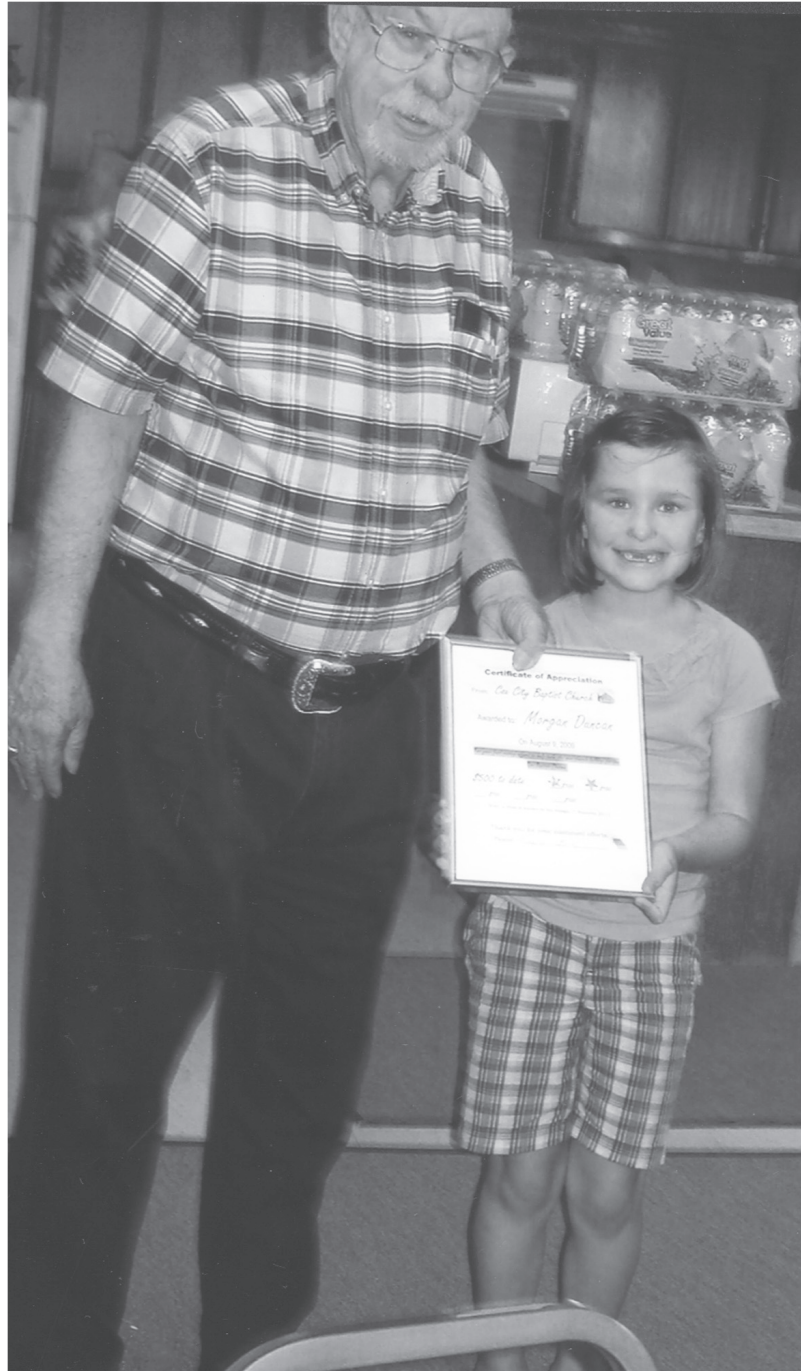

The little girl did not hesitate one moment with her answer, "We keep on sinning, and God just keeps on forgiving us."

Perhaps from now on when we turn our windshield wipers on we will remind ourselves that no matter who we are or what we have done, when we ask God to forgive us...He always will.

Barbara Lackey gave the closing prayer, and the ladies were reminded that classes would meet in the sanctuary. We're getting the Church ready for Judgement House the end of this month. This is a big project for us, and everyone is praying for another successful presentation. See you there, October 23-November 1.

The Cox City Baptist Church recently presented a certificate to Morgan Duncun, a 7-year-old girl from Rush Springs, OK who has raised over $1,000 for the church's new building program in the last two months. Her contribution is inspiring and encouraging to the church and others in the community as they raise money to build the new church auditorium, classrooms, and fellowship hall on the new property where the Cox City School once set.

She is very eager and enthusiastic about encouraging friends and family as well as asking local business people to give her cans to sell and put money in her jars she has placed in the community. During YAC (Youth Action Conference) over 300 members from the Southwest District in Oklahoma come together for workshops over leadership, team building, youth development and much more. The Thursday schedule included two shifts of members doing volunteer work at the Regional Food Bank. Garvin County members worked in the shelf stable foods area, sorting and packing meals for disadvantaged families. In four hours at the food bank, YAC delegates packed more than 43,000 pounds of non-perishable, shelf-stable and frozen food. This food will provide 33,220 meal equivalents children and families in need. Also while at YAC 17 counties donated a total of 2452 stuffed animals, books, coloring books, video tapes, etc. for HERO packs for children of deployed service men and women. In addition, at the conference they stuffed 418 packs to be distributed at Ft. Sill. Just over $100 was donated to purchase items for the packs as well. Additionally as a service project counties collected more than 1400 pounds of aluminum pull tabs for the Ronald McDonald House. Although the amount received varies depending on the market, at an average price of 75 cents per pound, this effort will raise more than $1000 to provide lodging for families with sick children at the Oklahoma City Ronald McDonald House. Throughout the conference delegates also attended workshops, a fundraiser carnival, an evening dance and had several speakers. Garvin County members that attended Youth Action Conference were: From Pauls Valley - Chase Leadford. From Stratford - Tyler Gaines and Caylen Willingham. From Wynnewood - Tyler Jolly, Denver Daughtry, Jack Urbanek and Kayla Jolly. From Maysville - Jocelyn Puckett, Niki Clark, Mary Lee and Julie Green. From Lindsay - Paige Stevens. Chaperones were Bob Leadford, Garvin County Extension Director and his wife Julie, Sarah Jolly, Extension 4-H Program Assistant and Christie Puckett, Maysville 4-H Leader.

Wallville, America 1969

Turn off the highway and let's go down the Wallville Road. Wallville, small town America, expect the unexpected. The Wallville General Store Halloween Night 1969. The Wallville boys of Johnny Lee Jenson, Charlie Tuner, Bill Donaho, Ronnie Rouse, and E.J. Fox just hanging out, bored to the bone. When someone came up with a wild plan. Over near the Whitehead Cemetery, 20 miles or so from the Wallville section line, someone had a plentiful corn harvest. Putting their heads together, which might have made one good one, decided to help themselves to some. So, in the still and dark night, a 2-car convoy of Wallville night riders took out. Arriving at the scene of the crime, it was determined Country Bill would be look out and drive the get away car. With flash lights in hand the boys helped themselves to the corn, unloading their gathering in the trunk of the car. Not to get away scott free, everytime the lights of a car approached, Bill would honk the car's horn. The flashlights went out as Bill eased down the road until the coast was clear. After sometime they called it enough and boogied out of there. Hoping they had escaped the eyes of County Sheriff Clark Cayes and his men. Now, forty years later, hopefully the statue of limitations h as expired and these woolies have been repentant and gave up a life of crime conjured up down the Wallville Road.

Drum roll please, Legend #880, of Wallville and those who live there, not your ordinary small ghost town. Editor-Al Hunt with a staff of thousands spread out across the land. 1992-2009.

Sickness, colds, the flu bug, and the such like hit Garvin County and regions beyond the hospitals have been over run with business.

Extra-Extra-November 1, George and June Adams with the ninety-year-old famous Amos Smith will be headed to California to visit Amos's 92-year-old sister then on to Oregon where they will visit their 105-year-old sister Moch Sims. Loyd Adams and associates will stand guard over the Adams property until they return from what hopes to be a grand time.

Winner of the roses-Wayne and Judy Norton celebrating 47 years of spooning and happy honeymooning this October 27. May it be a great day.

Catching up with Gwen and Mark Tomlison, they are still in the stages of moving back to the old stomping grounds. Mark retired in July with Gwenna planning to retire in June 2010. Then things will kick into high gear.

Building? Let us recommend building contractor Joe Hunt at 405-206-7495. He comes highly recommended. We've seen his work done on $100,000 homes. You would do well to consider him for your next building project. Sierra-Rae Homes.

Happy 44th anniversary to Ronnie and Barbara Blankenship this October 30. Reigning Pastor of the Hughes Baptist Church.

The Wallville Church young people and a few old foogies (Al and Cindy Hunt and Bill Donaho) enjoyed a good youth rally October 16 at Kingfisher, OK with Brother Joe Ince, Pastor and hearing good preaching from Al Hunt and Matthew Hunt of Waurika. The next rally will be in Wallville the third Friday night of November. Mark it down.

From the collective files of the Wallville Road, it's happy birthday to Dave West on the 22, 1966 Hughes graduate Sharon McGee celebrates on the 23, on the 24 Michael Turner and Jerry Work share the day, Bob Douglas parties on the 25. It's Rocky Richardson day on the 26, moving on Kenneth Henderson, Kevin Douglas, Freda Cunningham, and Lavern Wigley share the 27, Sheila Reed, wherever she may be and the man Danny Leon Powers, Hughes grad party big time on the 28.

Keith and Janice Clagg, the movers and shakers of Garvin County celebrate anniversary #40 this October 25. Congratulations from the staff of the Wallville Road.

Alright, check your address books as there has been a change of scenery from now on send your news and views to Mr. Al Hunt with emphasis on the Mr. at 30345 Hwy 19., Pauls Valley, OK 73075 or call 405-207-3268. Many thanks.

The famous stork is soon to lift off heading to Boyd, TX for a special delivery to the home of Timothy and Hannah Hunt, special children of Al and Cindy Hunt.

Great-Grannie Bertie Mayhan has been visited by the Bruce Mayhan family, the Steve Mayhan family, grandchildren, and great-grands, not to mention friend Hazel White, and Charlene Hampton.

The Wallville Church started Revival Sunday night October 18 with Brother Donnie Mooder, the evangelist. They come to us from Gracemont, OK.

Checking in on the Kenneth McCutcheon family. Grandpa Ken is still battling health issues. The family has had a few head and chest colds. But, nothing like we have had here.

Thanks to Alexander Graham Bell, Country Bill Donaho keeps in touch with family and friends, daughter Rachel in Arkansas, daughter Carrie in Erin Springs, sisters in Purcell and a daily call from Pastor Al Hunt.

Making themselves at home recently in the Al Hunt hacienda has been, Joe Hunt, Bill Donaho, Anna Grace Hunt, Matt and Kristi Hunt, and Randy Stafford shuffling the old school bus stop by and say hi.

With clearing skies and cooler temps this is the 61 year old Owl Man saying this is be kind to "Bertie Mayhan" week. The biscuit Queen and Eastside Holiness cook.

The Matthew Hunt Minsteries and the Pernell Lighthouse making it safe for all the ships at sea and coming down the Washita. This week's sponsors in good standing.

Now, this is a fact with my hand up. Those rascals from Wallville really pulled off the stunt Halloween night 1969. One of the headlines had a guilty conscience and fessed up to the Owl Man who happened to be guarding American interest on the shores of Germany at the time. As he finished his tale of woe, he said the next day the guys in the spirit of Robin Hood and his Merry Men, took their bounty and passed it out to the needy down the Wallville Road.
